Show and Tell

Tom Schottle brought in two square plates inspired by Jamie Donaldson, who was the demonstrator at the November meeting. One was from Maple and the other from Cherry.

Tom showed us a "long bowl" he had turned from Maple.

He also had a wonderful platter, which was constructed from four pieces of Maple separated by strips of Purple Heart.

To keep in line with the topic of the day, Tom showed us a couple of nice lidded boxes he had turned.

One was footed.

John Crede brought an attractive square plate, which a friend had decorated with painted holly leaves.

Dennie Ashby brought in an attractive deep bowl turned from Cherry and a nice covered dish from Butternut.

Dave Jones showed us a really nice square bowl from Walnut and an interesting large platter from Cypress.

U.K. Dawson brought a nice lidded dish. The dish was colored blue and the lid was Locust.

U.K. did not stay around to have his work photographed.

Gary Gibbs brought in a really nice Catalpa dish.

He had a couple of natural edge bowls from a large piece of Gum.

The larger of the two was turned rather thick because there were so many holes and voids Gary was cutting more air than wood. It was a really remarkable bowl.

Gary also brought in a wonderful large plate from spaulted Maple and a fine smaller plate also from spaulted Maple.

Bill McKay showed us a really attractive vase turned from Sugar Maple.

Jerry Smith brought in a wonderful deep Cherry bowl,

a nice deep Walnut bowl,

and a nice little bowl from a Cherry burl.
